MORE SUNSHINE FOR BOSTON

In the absence of any immediate storm threat, Greater Boston is officially assured of sunny skies over the coming 24 hours.
All sections of the country today east of the Mississippi are enjoying reasonable temperatures, although the east wave, which is accompanying the cloudless skies, suggest this area with mercury would below 20 above during the night.
Cloud and condition states reported the only storm on the weather map, which, if it moves outward, will not reach the Atlantic slope for two days more, at least.
Forecast for Boston and vicinity: Fair tonight and Tuesday; not much change in temperature; moderate north and northwest winds.

Kishliff charged that as a result of becoming permanently crippled by the accident he was unable to accept a contract.

TRIES TO 'TAKE THE RAP'; FINED

William A. Sears, 36, of Julie st., Malden, attempted to "take the rap" for his brother Albert in East Boston court on a charge of being present where gaming implements were found, with the result that both men paid fines instead of one today.
Albert Sears was one of 11 men whom Sergt. Sweeney brought into court on gambling charges. When Albert's name was called William answered, to be immediately challenged by Sweeney. On being questioned by Judge Barnes, William admitted his identity and was fined $10 for contempt.
Albert was then brought into court on a default warrant, and was fined $3, so that $10 would have been saved if William had not attempted to assume his brother's responsibilities.

The Curious Cameraman

He Asks a Question and Pictures Those Questioned

THE QUESTION
Should judges be appointed, as at present, or elected by the people as planned in a bill now before the Legislature?
OLGA LAKE, 107 Washington st., Gardner, college student—The governor should still continue with the ancient custom of having the power to appoint judges for our courts. He is independent of his actions and not under any political influence. I believe such would be the case if the people were to elect the judges by popular vote. There have been very few cases in the history of Massachusetts where there has been a judge impeached. States now electing these honorable justices have had several occasions to take these drastic measures to put the judges out of office on account of some offense caused by politics.
MARJORIE SIDHALTER, 33 Boulevard ter., Allston school teacher—The governor should still maintain his right to appoint the judges for our courts. Any judge that has been appointed has been always seriously considered and has had the sanction of the Governor's Council before he has been elected to the bench by him. If the people were given the right to elect the judges, the public and the press would be entertained in places where politics should be barred. There would be the possibility that some judge might feel he was under an obligation which would hinder in the meeting out of justice.

ANNE ULRICH, 326 Audubon rd., Boston, dressmaker—Why shouldn't we have people vote for their own judges? They are directly concerned with them. When the voters go to the polls to vote, they should have the privilege to determine their choice in the matter of who should judge them before the bar of justice. In other states where judges are elected by the people they have shown that this method has been successful.

ARDEN RUTH WATTS, 5 Clark ave., Northampton, private secretary—There is not any reason to deny the people of Massachusetts the privilege of electing the judges for the courts. We vote for other candidates for high offices, some of which are not as important as that of a judge. If a judge does not satisfy the demands of the public it would be easily to retire these judges. It is the time of past years when I don't believe that politics would have any influence over these men. They are all of very high standing both in their own community and elsewhere where they may be associated.

ALFRED ATKINS, School st., Hingham Center, truck driver—I am very much in favor of the citizens of Massachusetts to have the privilege and power of electing the judges for the courts. It is a position that requires the opinion of many people. Therefore, we should select him by popular vote.

2 RECEPTIONS AND LUNCHEON FOR FRIED

YOUTH INJURED IN CRASH
David Furham, 14, of 11 Maybrook st., Dorchester, narrowly escaped death early today when a truck he was driving was in collision with an auto at Congress and Purchase sts., crossed over and crashed into an electric light pole. Furham was taken to Harvard Medical Hospital. He had suffered a fracture of the right arm, arm bruises about the body. He was held there for further treatment.

Furham, employed as a driver by the Harold Baking Co., of Haverhill, was driving alone when the crash occurred. The driver of the other coach, was driven by Lawrence M. O'Connell of 27 Boston St. The machines collided glancingly, but with enough force to wrench the steering wheel from Furham's hands and send the truck over the curbstone and into the electric light pole. The pole was splintered, and the light was smashed, but it did not topple.

German Twins Born on U.S. Ship, Peru Claims 'Em

New York, Feb. 4 (INS).—When twins are born to German parents on an American ship in a foreign port, who is their nationality? According to Capt. E. N. Parker, the U.S. customs officer at the port, the answer is Peruvian. On the last trip south, Capt. Parker said, twin boys were born to the wife of Carl Leonard Pankert, a German citizen, who is Chilean representative for the General Motors Co.

As the births occurred in the waters of Molendo, a Peruvian port, Peru immigration authorities immediately ruled that the boys were Peruvians.

OFFICER HELD IN ARLINGTON FIRE SLAYING

William C. Rice, who was arrested last night charged with the murder of his friend and benefactor, County Detective William E. Jackson, in the latter's farmhouse last Tuesday evening, was held by the city court today for a hearing next week Thursday without bond and returned to the city lockup.

Rice was not required to plead in the court action, which was a formal one. He was brought in from the lockup a short distance away and the courtroom and corridors of the building were jammed with townspeople. Former Atty-Gen. William A. Knicker, who had been retained by Rice as counsel and had been retained by Rice as counsel, was held in the courtroom for the preliminary hearing, but the state objected to the trial by agreement it was set for next week Thursday.

Edward R. Harvey announced that he had been retained also by Rice. Harvey was a special state's attorney in the prosecution of the so-called "ice box bandits," who are now life prisoners for killing state Trooper Irving H. Nelson, and Judge Fox was of counsel to those two men.

Here appeared at ease as he entered and left the room. His stay in court was so short that he hardly knew how long he was there. He looked at the judge and the attorneys. Later he will be sent to Brookline jail until the day of the hearing.

Edward R. Harvey, chief investigator in the case, today would have nothing to say about the report current that Rice had made certain admissions as contained in a blood statement of Lieut. Edward P. Leach of the Williamette police, that Rice "broke down" and told him of the homicide. Today these officers declined to speak and Mr. Harvey himself said that he would not talk on this angle of the case.

The newborn child of Mrs. Clinton F. Smith, at Somerville, died today, despite the thrush-like battle of police and firemen to save his life with a lung-stroke. Firemen Harold Butler and Charles Donohue, aided by Policemen W. Dwyer and T. J. O'Connell, used the lung-stroke for two hours.

RICH INDIAN SAYS PALEFACE WOODED HIM

Washington, Feb. 4 (AP)—Testimony in the presence of his wife, Jackson Barnett, aged millionaire Creek Indian, testified today that he had not wanted to be married and that he had not asked the woman to marry him.

The committee questioned him about charges that he had kidnapped at the time of his marriage, and sought information as to the disposition of funds Barnett received from royalties on oil lands in the old Indian Territory.

Answering questions by Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, Barnett grinned constantly, replying usually in monosyllables or with a nod of his head.

He said he didn't know how much money he had.

"How did you come to get married?" asked Wheeler. "I don't know."

Barnett said that his wife proposed the second time he met her. He said she and a man from Kansas City came to his home one night and asked him to go for a ride.

The witness said he went to Okemah. The next day, Barnett said, he again drove with the woman and man and he rode beside the woman.

"What did you talk about?" "Wanted to get married."

"Did you want to get married?" "No."

"You never did want to get married, did you?" continued Wheeler. "No."

"She asked you to marry her?" "Yes."

Barnett then related how he was married twice, in different states. "You never did want to get married, did you?" again questioned Wheeler. "Not that way."

"What do you mean?" "Get twice," Barnett replied, still grinning. "That wasn't fair. Didn't like much about it."

When the car struck the hydrant, at Madison and Main sts, the water burst forth and threw spray across the street as it hit the sidewalk, flooding the gutters and even the collars of the homes and stores.

For more than a half hour the water roared forth until it looked as if even Madison street might be swept by this tidal wave.

Two Arrested After Shots Halt Chase

Two shots from his revolver were necessary before Patrolman Robaillo of the Somerville police was able to capture Daniel O'Brien of Linden st., Somerville, and John "Doc" of Banker Hill st., Charlestown, both 17 years of age, who were discovered attempting, he said, to break into the store at 55 Washington st., Somerville.

The noise of breaking glass attracted the patrolman as he was walking down Washington st. He managed to get within a few feet of the young fellows before they realized and soon as they recognized the uniform both ran with the policeman after them. They were fast getting away when he commanded an automobile and pursued, firing two shots which evidently took the courage out of the young fellows.

Two Injured in Brighton Collision

Sliding on ice near the bridge on North Beacon st., Brighton, a Boston Elevated bus, operated by John J. McHenry, and an automobile driven by a student operator avoided colliding, but the latter machine and an automobile following the bus came together with resulting injuries to Leo Malvey, 16, and Robert Daniels, his instructor, both of 49 Wiley rd., Newton.

SAYS NAY MAN CAUSED SCARE ON LINER

New York, Feb. 4 (AP)—Charges that when the Dollar liner, President Adams, ran aground near the Bahamas, accidentally "beating" Capt. W. G. Morris into the sea, a U. S. naval officer heard the ship frightened passengers by telling them that the master had committed suicide was made here today by Capt. Fred Kartner, salvage expert of the Panama Canal Zone, who arrived on the Grace liner, Santa Maria.

Capt. Kartner said that Capt. Morris of the Dollar liner left word that when the vessel reached Yonkers, where it was aground, he was to be awakened from a long sleep which he planned to take in his cabin.

The order apparently was forgotten, Capt. Morris did not reach the bridge until a few moments before the ship struck. The fact threw him overboard, Kartner added.

DEATH OF AGED MAN REVEALS 2ND ROMANCE

Death of Charles P. Wood, 76-year-old retired Boston travel office, has revealed his romance with Miss Lena Macker, 55, formerly of Lynn, whom he married a month ago after a 15-year courtship.

Funeral services for Wood, a widely known figure in the South End, where for 30 years he served as travel office, were held in the Waterman Chapel, 2328 Washington St., Saturday.

The facts were revealed by Howard St. Wood, a brother, with whom he lived at 80 Blue Hill ave., Roxbury. Soon after the death of Charles' first wife, the former Eliza Cutting of Natick, he became engaged to Miss Macker. For years they planned to marry, but kept putting it off.

Last October Wood was stricken by heart disease and for many weeks was seriously ill. Unwilling to postpone his marriage any longer, Wood determined it should take place as soon as his condition improved. Accordingly, the couple slipped out to Belmont just one month ago and were married by Rev. Dr. Percy Edgely.

Last Thursday night, the septuagenarian bridegroom suffered another heart attack. His condition was critical, but Mrs. Wood, his bride, was a devoted nurse. She stayed with him constantly.

Says Clubwomen Here Lead World

"American clubwomen lead the world in women's progress because they have the capacity for details," says Mrs. Azel A. Packard, State president, who is being entertained to- day by the Quincy Federation at its festive reception.

"We are a shining link in the chain of women's clubs throughout the world," she declared. "The women of other lands stretch out imploring hands across the seas to us, asking for help and guidance in improving their own living conditions. They look to us for leadership. It is our duty and privilege to make our friendly influence felt when legislation affecting community welfare comes up."

"We must register our opinions on these matters if we are to retain leadership in world progress."

Mrs. Packard particularly urged women to become thoroughly familiar with the six legislative measures recommended for study by the General Federation before the annual mid-winter meeting at the Hotel Statler, February 25.

The Brookline Woman's Club, by the way, will be hostess on the occasion.

TO ACT ON BILLS
Action will be taken then upon at least one of these measures. House bill No. 10, for licensing and placing boarding houses for the aged under State supervision.

"There can be no honest opposition to the bill," explained Francis Harwell, head of the State welfare board, addressing the conference. "It is only a matter of an honest public kind in representatives know its sentiments regarding old persons who are near dependents. But you must be able to state your case intelligently when your representative asks you what you want him to vote for it."

Another matter, considered urgent by the clubwomen is that a commission to study children's laws. A resolution on this will be presented at the mid-winter meeting. Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, State legislative chairman, announced.

Thanks to the tireless energy which has cost Mrs. Pigeon 15 months of weight in the last few months, speakers have been sent into every district to explain each of the six measures for which the clubwomen are working this year.

"And now we form our opinions and act on them with respect to our senators and representatives," Mrs. Packard urged.

HOOVER STUDIES FLOOD AREA IN FLORIDA

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 4. (AP)—President-elect Hoover decided today to make a personal inspection of the Okeechobee district of Florida to get first-hand information as to the needs for flood control in that section where 200 people were drowned during the 1928 storm.

Announcement of the decision made by Glenn B. Shipper, Republican national committeeman for Florida, after a conference with Mr. Hoover. He said the President-elect would leave here on February 11 or 12 and the trip would probably last two days.

Details as to where stops will be made remain to be worked out. A complete circuit of the district will be made, Mr. Shipper said, and the President-elect will have advantage not only of surface indications but also of information furnished by members of the party who are thoroughly familiar with the whole situation.

Maj. Gen. J. Edwin, chief of army engineers, has recommended to Congress an appropriation of $10,000,000 to build levees, reservoirs and to aid navigation in the district.

Besides the loss of life in the 1928 hurricane resulting from the overflow of Lake Okeechobee, many persons also were drowned in that region during the 1926 hurricane.

Lake Okeechobee is about 40 miles northwest of Miami Beach and is one of the largest all-American lakes in the United States.

Rebel Vet Finds His Bivouac of Death By Campfire

Spartanburg, S. C., Feb. 4. (AP)—A 30-year-old Confederate veteran who had traveled in a mule-drawn wagon for months from his home in Oklahoma to attend the Confederate reunion at Charlotte, N. C., next June, won't answer his cell call. He died in a hospital here from burns.

The aged man, R. A. Golden, had pitched camp for the night near here beside his wagon and two mules. He was sitting by his campfire when he was and was awakened to find his clothing on flames.

Before he died he told hospital physicians his name and said he lived at Fort Hill, Okla.

Sanchez-Guerra in prison is attracting much attention. The story is told here that Premier Primo de Rivera has confided to intimates that although the two enemies he had only admiration for Sanchez-Guerra's conduct in the current revolution.

Sanchez-Guerra has written his daughters at Madrid and his wife at Paris asking their attendance at his trial and expressing a hope they might attend without being molested by the government. The government has acquiesced in this and has issued orders accordingly.

B. H. BRISTOW DRAPERS GUESTS AT WHITE HOUSE—BETTY ALDEN

BOSTONIANS ARE TODAY IN WASHINGTON TO BE WHITE HOUSE GUESTS, AND Box No. 38 at the Opera here this evening lacks the gracious presence of its host and hostess. The yearly rollick of that favored spot in the grand tier, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bristow Draper, are away on the briefest, swiftest of trips southward. They left Boston yesterday on one fast train, start home today via another in luxurious limousine, and in the meantime are honored guests at the White House, taking luncheon with President and Mrs. Coolidge.

BOX NO. 38 WILL NOT BE WITHOUT A DRAPER REPRESENTATION, HOWEVER, for "The Marriage of Figaro." During the brief absence of his handsome mater, Eben Draper, second son of the household, takes over the family box and entertains some of his contemporaries. Young men are to be his guests, whose immaculate white linen and sombre broadcloth dedicated to formal evening wear will make a distinctively different note in the semi-circle gay with feminine plumage. Young Mr. Draper also played host in his parents' box on Saturday, when "Thais" held the boards. It is really rather refreshing to find young men adjusted thus to opera going, and presages well for future seasons.

FRIDAY EVENING AT THE OPERA THE SET IDENTIFIED WITH THE SENIOR SUPPER DANCES will find Garden and "The Love of Three Kings" dramatically and musically most satisfying as preliminary entertainment to dancing was into the small hours. For the third of these fashionable Supper Dances Mrs. Draper is entertaining at dinner, and takes her guests, two box parties of them, on to the Opera House before descending on the Hotel Copple-Place about midnight. Reservations for the Supper Dances are numerous, and interesting, and indicate that large parties will gather about the tables that make a brilliant circle of the French ballroom, dedicated these several seasons to the Supper Dance program.

THE ROGER GRISWOLDS will entertain a dozen guests. Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner Fluke brings on it to dance and sup at midnight. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grey, leaving will entertain at dinner for a dozen and bring them on to the Supper Dance. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Felton's party is for a dozen; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ernst have the same number of reservations; Dr. and Mrs. John Bryant will have their usual table and be host and hostess for 16. The Charles Russell party is in; Mrs. Charles G. Minter has 18.

CHARMING MRS. ROSS WHISTLER will have eight guests for the third dance of the Senior Set. Mr. and Mrs. Fairfield Goodale's coterie is 14. The Paul G. Courtenay and the Charles G. Minter have each 18, the Randolph Tuckers, a dozen; Mrs. John W. Farley, 16; Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Blum, 14, and the Henry W. Minter, 10 guests to add to his super-exclusiveness. Mrs. Draper skips the cream for her supper-party; it includes the Hon. and Mrs. Lyman, the Henry C. Everett, Jr., the Nelson Kings, the Ralph Bradley, and the Randolph Green and will catch the eye and

IF THERE IS ANY ONE OCCASION more than another in Palm Beach's glamorous fashion life that brings the smart colony up on its toes with anticipation and relief, it is the Everglades Ball. March 7 is the date set for the annual affair of color and fantasy, when everyone who is anyone at all in the American Riviera gets into fancy costume and motors out to the exclusive Everglades Club, there to pass through exclusive portals into fairyland. It is the affair of the season. Chorus to it are sought with the same keenness as managing mammas exert to secure "commands" to Buckingham for their delicate daughters.

THE FASHIONABLE WORLD that travels so endlessly through a Palm Beach winter gets into fancy costume for the Everglades Ball, a function without a peer in elaborateness and sheer beauty. All the magic that Midas purses may command is brought into play. The wide world is searched over for costumes, authentic, baroque, gorgeous, and the ingenuity and vision of foremost designers on two continents are enlisted. The leaders of Palm Beach's exclusive radial, the affair with their exalted presence, the Edward Storerby, the Louis Quenlin Jones, the Edward F. Hutches, etc., and all is merry.

THROW A PEBBLE INTO any tropical sea bordered with smart winter resorts and the ever widening circle is sure to touch Bostonians turning winter into summer under unclouded skies. Jamaica the beautiful, land of tropical exotics and tropical diversions, interests for a winter playground. Francis H. Hunsell of Commonwealth ave., and Miss Hunsell, who have been guests at the Hotel Tichenor, Port Antonio. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar C. Everett also have been Jamaican guests, motoring about the island, supervising the mountains and swimming in its translucent pools.

HAVANA HAS ITS QUOTA OF Bostonians and New Englanders among each day's new arrive St. the Duke of the Western Hemisphere. And, of course, the composition of three continents gravitate always to the Jockey Club. Mr. and Mrs. James T. Williams, with their son, James T. Williams, Jr., are stranded at Cuba and its manifold attractions to such an extent that they plan to take a house in Havana next winter. This winter their visit includes a motor tour of the island and a go to all the smart things Havana offers the traveler from a northern climate.

Danger

remove the Film on teeth

It is the chief source of "off-color" teeth—of decay, pyorrhea.

The Film that turns white teeth "off color"

SCIENCE has made a significant discovery. The cause of dull discolored teeth is found to be the chief cause of serious tooth and gum disorders. That cause is a film that forms on teeth.

You can feel this with your tongue—a slippery, viscous coating. It clings to teeth and gets into crevices and stays. It absorbs stains from food and smoking and turns white teeth "off color" and cloud their brilliance. Germs by the millions breed in it, and they, plus tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

To remove film dentists prescribe the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent. It acts to remove that film so that brushing easily removes it.

Start today. Get Pepsodent at any drug store or write for free 15-day supply to The Pepsodent Co., 1104 S. Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

OPERATE ON CULLEN IN STRUGGLE TO SAVE HIS LIFE

POLICE BELIEVE HE PLANS FIGHT TO CHEAT CHUR

ously fatal, they declared, will, the patient, "has a chance," and that will be greatly increased if the brain fluids can be removed.

Further, if Cullen does not die from the tumor, the chances of recovery will be greatly increased. It is not known whether the patient will be operated on.

GENERALLY FATAL

"They had a mind a summary of his symptoms," said the police, and were taken down to a rooming house, where they were kept. Their bodies are in the hands of the police.

Defensive, police officers are guarding the hospital grounds. The police are also guarding the hospital grounds.

"The man has a fracture of the base of the skull, an injury that is generally fatal," said the police.

WORD PICTURE

"Cullen did show slight improvement, but still a change came. It is too early to promise anything. We shall do all we can."

It was out of this spirit of the hospital staff, with the aid of the best consulting surgeons in South Florida, that there came a decision to perform the operation.

The patient's condition is generally fatal, the police said. The patient's condition is generally fatal, the police said.

of crime, and for his this picture of what he had done. Cullen's mind was not clear, but he was not in a state of mind to defend himself.

"This is the worst picture," said the police, "that we have ever seen. It is a picture of a man who is not in a state of mind to defend himself."

to Hingham and stand trial, confident that no judge will sentence him to die in the electric chair. Cullen, according to the police, realizes he will have to pay for his crime, but he says he believes he will get a prison term.

Meanwhile Cullen continues to cry for a drink from his hospital bed at the Jackson Memorial Hospital.

The hospital doctors have refused to give him any more as they say it will retard his progress.

The fact that Cullen has a fractured skull, and that he has a fracture of the skull, is a serious matter.

It would also be possible for defense counsel to have Cullen repudiate his story, but the police believe he is not in a state of mind to do so.

MINSTREL SHOW TO BE FILMED AS A TALK

Los Angeles, Feb. 4.—Shades of Lew Dockstader! The moviegoers are about to burst into an old-fashioned minstrel show.

Metropolitan-Globe-Mayer, an outgrowth of the old Metropolitan, is further experimenting in their new extravaganza.

Very wisely, I think, M-G-M will not try to make a long-drawn out picture.

With that thought in mind, the minstrel show will not be more than a half hour long.

It would also be possible for defense counsel to have Cullen repudiate his story, but the police believe he is not in a state of mind to do so.

GREAT ALTAR IS UNCOVERED IN CANAAN

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—A great stepped altar, at which Canaanites worshipped their god Moloch nearly 3500 years ago, has been found in Beisan, the Biblical Beth-San, according to a report from Alan Rowe, director of the University of Pennsylvania expedition to Palestine.

The altar, built of bricks resting on a foundation of unhewn stones in the Moloch temple, is approximately 17 feet wide and 12 feet deep, and is the most remarkable structure of its kind ever found in Western Asia, the report said.

Many other objects of great archaeological value were also uncovered. They include three gold pendants, one of which bears the figure of goddess Ashtoreh; bronze arrowheads, an ivory spindle wheel, and several 3500-B.C. cylinder seals, whose presence, Rowe said, appeared to indicate a northern infiltration in Beisan in the time of Thutmose III.

REVEAL TEMPLE
The report added:
"The discovery we have made in the western section, together with our previous discoveries, reveal that the temple of Moloch consisted of a great courtyard, an inner sanctuary with a stone altar for most offerings and a brick altar for the more important sacrifices, and a small room south of the inner sanctuary."

"In the southern corridor of the temple was found a great stepped altar of bricks, which rests on a foundation of unhewn stones. It contains four steps, the lowest being much wider than the upper one, and there is a balustrade on either side."

"The width of the altar is 16 feet 10 inches; its depth 11 feet 10 inches; and its height about three feet. This structure is by far the most remarkable altar of its kind found in Western Asia; and that it was constructed in some way with the cult of Moloch is quite evident from the fact that it is found in the temple of the Moloch and that it is found in the temple of the Moloch and that it is found in the temple of the Moloch."

GREAT COURTYARD
"Immediately adjoining the great altar we uncovered a small room which has two doors the one leading into the great courtyard of the temple and the other into the courtyard directly to the right of steps connecting the courtyard with the southern corridor."

"It seems fairly obvious that the room was intended for the use of the temple guardian whose duty it was to prevent anyone from entering the courtyard, and that he was mounting the steps to the courtyard from the courtyard, and that he was mounting the steps to the courtyard from the courtyard, and that he was mounting the steps to the courtyard from the courtyard."

Two Teachers Fight for Position
West Plains, Mo., Feb. 4.—A distracted school board, prodded on by irate taxpayers, pondered over the manner of placing two claimants for one public school position. Mrs. Ella Smalley, the regular teacher, took a leave of absence when a baby arrived at her home on Christmas day. Joseph Tolson was employed to take the place of Mrs. Smalley, but when the leave of absence was ended he refused to surrender the position. Both Tolson and Mrs. Smalley attempted to teach the same room, much to the delight of the pupils, as the controversy between the two made for light lesson assignments and much merriment.

Nervousness Called Only Imaginary

By LOUISE RICE
Noted Graphologist

"DEAR MISS RICE: I am engaged to a young man whom I love dearly. I am of a nervous type and fear I will not make a good wife."

*A young man in
character. I am*

Your fears are entirely groundless, and what is more, you are not of the nervous type. At the present moment your judgment is obscured by the fact that you are in that state of humbleness which is what true love gives us. It's very natural and part of the experience of life, but it should not continue to be so pronounced. And will not.

Your young man's writing shows that he is a sweet-tempered and normal type who is interested in business, play and a home, and I think that you will have little difficulty—unless, I say, you keep up this sort of pseudo-nervousness."

Fully half the world, you see, is suffering from physical and mental distress which are real, mere shadows. You have perfectly good nerves, you have fair health, you are not naturally unduly introspective. It is true that in the past you have been a bit nervous in the sense that you are fretting and worrying about things which are doing this for some time.

The attitude that this is as much your fault as if you were a slightly untruthful. Correct yourself of it by being ashamed of it."

NOTE: Send sample of your handwriting to Miss Louise Rice, noted graphologist, for analysis. Write your name and complete address on unruled paper, in ink or pencil. To cover clerical costs enclose 10¢ in silver or stamps. Also enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The individual analysis will be returned to you within a period of one or two weeks.

Letters will not be published if sender so requests. Miss Rice has a number of letters which she cannot answer because of wrong or inadequate addresses.

DEFENDS NEW IDEA OF GOD
New York, Feb. 4. (AP)—Dr. Harvey D. Barnes of Smith College defended himself from the pulpit of the Union Methodist Church against the attacks of those who look upon his statement that modern science demanded a revision of religion and a new concept of God.

Dr. Barnes said he was "not at odds with any religion or religious leaders."

"Insofar as my previous addresses are concerned," he said, "I have been saying the same thing to my classes for 15 years. If science can't explain the mysteries of life, religion can't. Religion must scrap many old beliefs which science has proved untenable and substitute an ethical code founded upon sound science and aesthetics."

ROOM-FACE ON OWN BEHALF

London, Feb. 4. (AP)—Developments in the struggle within the Salvation Army over the question of leadership moved swiftly over the week-end.

Gen. Bramwell Booth made a quick automobile trip from his cottage at Southwell to his home in Hadley Wood, near London, and the High Council called a special meeting for today to discuss the new situation.

The council was particularly interested in a report that the general wished to appear personally within two or three weeks' time for his own behalf despite his long illness.

It is understood Catherine and other members of the Booth family, except possibly Evangeline, will not be present at today's meeting of the high council.

FLIER SAFE AS PLANE DROPS
Towanda, Pa., Feb. 4.—Lieut. George C. Price, flying from Massachusetts to Michigan, was safe and his plane was undamaged as a result of a forced landing made on the farm of Leonard Vought, 20 miles from here, and the flier was unharmed.

Reports reaching here today said that the aviator had lost his map and was compelled to land in darkness and was falling and a storm appeared to be brewing. He brought the ship down on the hillside and was unable to avert the crash.

Price made arrangements to have the plane shipped to his Michigan destination, which was specified in information available here and will leave by train for the same place today.

NEW 'PREACHER' IS JILED
Marion, Ill., Feb. 4.—Edward Hayes, a school-teacher turned preacher, was facing a six months jail sentence and a $100 fine here for marrying the Rev. Joseph Benton, 54, and blind, to 11-year-old Selinda Cleland.

Hayes pleaded in court that he was "under the spell of Benton," but he was convicted by Judge A. D. Morgan of violating the marriage laws of the State.

Hayes told the court his "nervous condition of shell shock and gas during the war, added to the constant insistence of Benton that he perform the ceremony, temporarily unbalanced him." Benton, he said, ordained him a Protestant minister so that he could marry him and the child. The ceremony was performed on December 22.

Benton's marriage has been announced as a charge of insanity pending against him. He has a wife living in Blythe, Ark.

Selinda, at the home of her mother, takes the entire afternoon off from school and is said to be in a state of "dissemination from heaven in her favor. She still professes to believe that her marriage brought her "salvation."

Drug Addicts Often Seek Safety of Jail, Fearing Themselves

By ELEANOR MEHERIN

"I'm an addict. I'm going to sell some people down in the alley there at 2 o'clock. I want to get arrested. I want to go to jail. I'm afraid of myself."

Assistant Attorney General Crim testifies before the House of Representatives that addicts frequently make this announcement to him.

Every judge has heard the piteous plea. It is made by desperate men—invariably desperate when they want delivery from their "dope," and when they pathetically hope for cure.

Yet these broken men show a courage beyond estimate. They enter deliberately into a hell of pain. They know what their torments will be. Imagine neuritis in every nerve of your body; a wild, convulsive twitching, and a craving that would drive you to batter your head against iron walls; to tear out your hair; to cut the veins of your wrists.

Men of iron constitution; men of high education—dope makes no distinction. It levels the finest to the lowest. The awful thing is this: In eight cases out of ten the addict is the victim of misfortune over which he has little control.

"Addiction," says Stephen C. Porter, United States representative, whose narcotic farm bill has just been signed by President Coolidge, "rarely occurs through viciousness except in cases of habits of the underworld. And perhaps the majority of these have been reduced to this awful condition as a result of addiction."

"The principal causes of addiction are unskilled medical treatment, momentary recklessness of youth, use of drugs as relief from acute, chronic pain by persons ignorant of their habit-forming nature, and solicitation by peddlers."

Habit Means Sure Doom

But once committed to the habit, even for the short period of three months, the hope of escape is permanently gone, the boy or girl, though he or she come from the highest lineage and the best environment, is an outcast.

He is soon lost to his family and his old associates. He becomes indifferent to his personal appearance, unkempt and finally not even aware of personal filth.

He is banished to the underworld for contacts with peddlers. He is unfit for steady work, driven to steal, sometimes even to kill that he may get money to buy "dope."

"I would choose for myself or anyone that I loved," reported Bishop Charles H. Brent, formerly of the Philippines and for twenty years a student of the narcotic problem in the Orient, "I would choose smallpox, malaria, yellow fever in preference to drug addiction. No disease is so terrible as this which kills both body and soul."

Who are those it may attack?

If you could look at the names on the satanic rostrum of addiction, your complacent apathy would vanish. Here is the son of one of the finest and best actors in America—a name known to every household. The son was a handsome, magnetic fellow but a few years ago. He was already started on a career promising as his father's. When he was in unbearable physical pain, due to war wounds, the habit got him. He tried desperately, time and again, to be cured. He's still an addict. He admits having begged to get money for dope. Proud, handsome fellow like that!

Here is a college professor—a nurse—a young medical student. Here the mother of three children. She was well-to-do. Ten years of addiction have cost her home, her sons, her looks.

Poison Ravages Brains

But even these horrible ten years have not entirely wiped away traces of her former dignity.

On that rostrum there are singers, artists, writers. Here they didn't belong to the underworld nor gravitate there through personal viciousness. But they are doomed to that environment now as a leper to the banished islands.

The other day in San Francisco, a prisoner was brought before the judge to be sentenced. He had slashed both his wrists—death, pain, anything to shut out even for a moment his craving. He was held up to hear his punishment.

And this poor, sick victim was sentenced to a year in prison. Nothing else to do with him.

"But if we put drug addiction on the list of diseases, the causes of which have been ascertained," continued Bishop Brent, "as emphatically we should, we methodical science would deal with it as we deal with malaria and yellow fever. We would destroy the source of infection. The overcultivation of the poppy is a proven and grave cause of infection in the disease of morphia addiction. Let us deal with it as we would spray all standing water with kerosene if yellow fever were threatened."

If a typhoid carrier is arrested, we become furiously incensed. We want the fellow put away. We know that our children are menaced. The carrier may get a job in a bakery or on a milk ranch and send the disease into our homes—give the noxious thing to our babies.

And if he does it knowingly we show no mercy. Why should we?

But not only are the nations of the earth scattering germs far more ghastly than those of any known disease; the big traffickers in our own country are engaged in the business to staggering proportions.

If a man went around peddling smallpox germs to infect your son, scalp and hair from infection and avoid the pure in the elimination of waste by daily use of

New Evening Telephone Rates

Out-of-town telephone calls by number, at evening rates, may now be made an hour and a half earlier than before.

Formerly, full day rates applied until 8:30 P. M. Now, evening rates apply as early as 7:00 P. M.

These new evening rates, which continue until 8:30 P. M., are substantially lower than the corresponding day rates. Generally speaking, they range from twenty to twenty-five per cent. less.

Evening rates apply only to station-to-station calls, best made by number. Particular person calls take full day rates, whatever the hour.

Evening rates are subject to a 35 cent minimum.

Unless the day rate is more than 35 cents, there is no lower evening rate. But another way, evening rates apply on distances of more than forty miles.

Between 7:00 P. M. and 8:30 P. M., we have been handling at full day rates about 3000 toll calls a day which will benefit directly, as will all new business between these hours.

Interest High in the Battle of Miami, Says Sharkey

Friedman Meets Schaaf at Arena

BRUINS OUT TO START NEW WIN STREAK

By JACK SHARKEY
MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 1.—Miami has taken on the appearance of a boom town since preparations were begun for the ten-round bout between Young Strishling and myself, which will be staged on February 27.

I find that the people are 100 per cent behind this last big show staged by the city.

They tell me the people here will be there to see a real fight. I told them I would give them a real fight. I told them I would give them a real fight. I told them I would give them a real fight.

"The South is ripe for a big boom in the southern tide and with you fighting here there's no doubt what the show will do. A fight is like a circus. It always goes better in a new place. Miami will prove one of the best fight cities in the country."

"Thousands of people will come on a trip to the fight with a vacation. I hope you will bring your wife and children with you to Miami, as the climate will bring their health."

BEFORE leaving Boston, Johnny Buckle, my manager, sold 500 inside tickets at $25 each. I plan to take in the fight.

Kinda Black, Boston promoter, is going to lead a band of 200 boys to Miami. I hope they will follow me. I have been in the days when they had permanent quarters. They are now following the big fights.

I have no more faith in the fight. I have no more faith in the fight. I have no more faith in the fight. I have no more faith in the fight.

It is funny to see everybody that Jack Dempsey was on the scene prepared to carry on when the hand of death stepped in and took Richard.

WILLIAM F. CAREY, whom the newspaper boys have named Cyclone Bill, will take care of the business arrangements in connection with the fight. Carey is an engineer with international standing.

I got a close-up of Carey when I signed the final articles of agreement in connection with the match. He journeyed to Boston in a motor train and had all details in connection with the bout ironed out inside of an hour.

GETTING back to myself, I am in good condition to start the training grind for the Strishling bout.

When the indoor season opened Johnny Buckle and myself figured that my first big test would come the latter part of February. We felt that Paulino or possibly Breda would be the fellow in the other corner.

Harvard-Yale match at New Haven Saturday, which was won by the Crimson in an extra chucker by a one goal margin, was one of the greatest battles ever staged between the institutions.

At the end of the regulation four chuckers the teams were deadlocked at ten goals.

Yale had scored a supposedly winning goal in the final chucker and Captain Tim Clark was congratulating Captain Pete Foster of Yale on his team's fine comeback victory when Mel Gates, the referee, informed them that Yale's winning goal had never been scored and an extra chucker would be necessary.

Then the Crimson went ahead and won on a goal retained by George Clark in the extra chucker.

Yale was also deprived of victory through a couple of fouls committed by Ferguson during the match, which meant the deduction of a goal.

Harvard had a big lead at the end of the second chucker but Yale staged a wonderful comeback to the third and outscored the Crimson 7 to 2. The result was a big surprise for Harvard was favored to win with goals to spare.

The largest crowd of the season thronged to the game. The Amory Saturday night to witness the doubleheader in the arena, which means that the crowd campaign being conducted by the Y. M. C. A. has been successful.

THE BAER FACTS

The following dialogue is reprinted from the shorthand notes of a federal court stenographer.

STOP BEING A "LAXATIVE ADDICT"

It isn't wise—it isn't necessary—to be a slave to habit-forming laxatives. The continued dosing of the bowels to relieve constipation can mean a lifetime of trouble—unless you take the step now to stop it.

Stop it by taking the remedy that tends to do away with all dosing—Thalax. Thalax is a habit-forming laxative. Take a tablet or two before going to bed. In the morning there will be no distress, no griping. Instead, the bowels will move easily, naturally. Continue Thalax at intervals, when you need it, and you'll experience always the same prompt, easy results. But you'll find these intervals growing longer and longer, until you'll need a laxative only very rarely.

Why? Because Thalax has a strengthening, toning effect on the bowel muscles, gradually bringing back their natural easy action, making medicine entirely unnecessary.

It's worth the trying, at least, isn't it? Ask for Thalax—any good drug store. Bottle of 30 tablets, 35 cents. Should your druggist not have it on hand, we will be glad to supply you direct. K. A. Higgins Company, Boston, Mass.

"Sure. We stopped at several clubs."

"How many drinks did you have?"

"About forty-three."

"At this statement the judge fell off his step-ladder. He had been busy juggling the room with a lifetime of trouble—unless you take the step now to stop it."

"How many did you have at the Gumbot?"

"About ten more."

"That makes 26 drinks a man. And an extra one for emergencies. The shorthand stenographer dashed out to have the contents of his fountain pen analyzed by a roving chemist."

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 29 years and calomel's oldest enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid bowels.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing, saline laxative mixed with olive oil. These little sugar-coated, olive-oiled tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown stool"—bad breath—a dull, fretting, uneasy, loathsome, torpid bowels—situation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one to two tablets. Thousands take them every night in sleep right. Try them. 50¢, 80¢, 60¢.

RACHMANOFF MASTERPIECE IN CONCERT

Sergei Rachmanoff gave his first concert in the city of Boston last night. The auditorium was almost entirely filled by a surprisingly large audience, in view of the drought for concert artists that generally accompanies the run of the Chicago Opera Company.

It might be expected that a reviewer who had had more than his fill of operatic music during the week would be unresponsive to a program of piano music. Yet Rachmanoff's music remained essentially different from what we hear in the concert hall, and it was a pleasure to hear a series of piano works presented as music for their own sake, not as an accompaniment to something going on in the stage, or as a means of display for a singer.

There is nothing of personal display in Rachmanoff's music. The music is the music, and the performer's task is to play it as well as he can. Rachmanoff's music is not a series of virtuoso exercises, as is the case with many of the composers of the present day. It is a series of compositions that are as beautiful as the compositions of the great masters of the past.
